Creek Mouth Inset

Creek Entry Description - Begin the approach to St. Patrick's Creek at the Red Channel Marker #1 (this is the only pole marker in the channel). Looking toward the entrance to the creek you will see two floating red can markers. Make a straight line from Channel Marker #1 to the two floating red markers. There will be crab pots all along your starboard side (right side of boat), hug the crab pots. As you approach the two floating red markers you will see a green floating marker 20 degrees off to port (left). Turn toward that marker. From that point on follow the middle of the channel and middle of the creek back to the marina. From the entrance to the creek Coltons Point Marina is approximately one mile.
